Wuesthoff Home Medical Equipment receives Community Health Accreditation Program recognition

ROCKLEDGE, FL — Wuesthoff Home Medical Equipment has been officially recognized as an accredited agency by the Community Health Accreditation Program (CHAP). The accreditation extends through April 2012.

“We are very proud to achieve this honor,” said Lori Danford, Wuesthoff Home Medical Equipment operations manager. “Our recent accreditation site visit recognized our program for its experienced employees, strong leadership and overall commitment to expanding and providing services to our customers.”

The recently enacted Medicare Improvements for Patients and Providers Act (MIPAA) requires that all providers of durable medical equipment, prosthetics, orthotic and supplies (DMEPOS) become accredited by September 30, 2009 in order to continue to supply and bill for DMEPOS Medicare beneficiaries.

With locations in Rockledge and Melbourne, Wuesthoff Home Medical Equipment offers a complete selection of home medical equipment, supplies and services, including oxygen supplies, hospital beds, wheelchairs, crutches, CPAP/Bipap, incontinence and ostomy products. For more information on store hours, or available services, please call 321-632-4663

CHAP is an independent and non-profit accrediting program that was created in 1965. CHAP's goal is for home care to not only prosper, but gain strength in the overall health care industry.
